

M. S. KIM IS SENTENCED TO YEAR IN JAIL

M. S. Kim, who for some years has figured in the courts under a variety of charges, was sentenced to spend one year at the city and county prison following his conviction at district court upon a charge of embezzlement. Kim, as on several former occasions, conducted his own case before District Magistrate Monsarrat. The prosecution alleged that Kim appeared before a Spanish woman named Palava and in demanding payment of $100 promised to effect the release of her husband, then incarcerated at the municipal prison, on a $1000 bond. Investigation made by Captain of Detectives McDuffie indicated that about $70 had been paid by the woman to Kim, a receipt for such an amount being introduced as evidence.

The woman testified that her husband secured his freedom for 48 hours when the nature of his bondsman was made known and he was again surrendered to the custody of the sheriff.

Kim made a strong fight for his liberty. The testimony introduced the names of a number of prominent people into the case. The matter had been argued in the police court for the past three weeks. Six charges of gross cheat also brought against Kim will be heard on June 26.

NOTICE

Tomorrow being Decoration Day the general delivery window at the post-office will be open from 8 a. m. to 9 a. m., and no delivery will be made by the carriers. Patrons receiving their mail by carriers will be served by calling at the Bethel street door at the time specified.

SCHOOL STREET RESIDENTS ARE AGAINST CHANGE

After spending about $450 preparing data and maps for the extension of School street, and after holding several public meetings on the proposed project, the board of supervisors had their efforts set at naught last night when a petition was filed, signed and sworn to by 62 per cent of the property owners in the taxable district, protesting against the proposed extension.

This means the defeat of the enterprise, and the failure of the first effort made to make use of the direct frontage tax statutes, which were passed by the last legislature. The petition itself did not state the reasons for the protest, but they were possibly summed up by J. Alfred Magoon, who wrote, in substance, the following sentence under his name on the petition:

"I do not believe this a proper time to inaugurate any unnecessary public improvement, and I do not consider this contemplated work such an improvement."

Several of the supervisors stated that they were glad the matter had been terminated one way or another; that they had at no time wished to force this improvement on the residents against their wishes. The law provides that when an effort to make such an improvement is blocked by protests of the property owners in the district, six months must elapse before a second effort to accomplish the same work can be made.

A meeting of the members of Honolulu lodge No. 1, Modern Order of Phoenix, has been called for 7:30 o'clock this evening at the headquarters of the lodge, Fort and Beretania streets.

GREAT FUTURE IS DANCE AT SEASIDE PREDICTED FOR FANNING TOMORROW

Fanning Island, low, flat, coral rimmed, possessing what is declared an excellent harbor, 1100 miles to the southward of Honolulu, is destined to be the scene of much activity within the next few months, according to reports received in this city today with the return of the little British steamer Kestrel, which has completed a 30 day tour of the south seas, during which time an extended visit was paid to both Fanning and Washington islands.

A preliminary survey of the spacious lagoon which for years has afforded a safe anchorage for vessels of moderate tonnage at Fanning, the present location of the British and "all-red" cable station is now under way. Extensive soundings are now taken, the work being in charge of Messrs. Will and James Gregg, well known in Honolulu, who have for years made their home in the south seas.

Under the auspices of Armstrong and Armstrong, a syndicate of British capitalists, a thorough investigation of the phosphate and guano deposits on both Fanning and Washington is proceeding along scientific lines. One of the best posted experts in the business who is now on the scene has conducted a large number of borings. Investment Believed Profitable.

That Fanning and perhaps Washington and Christmas islands will yet become a productive source in supplying local fertilizer companies with a rich grade of guano is the prediction that has been ventured following the several weeks spent by the expert in carrying forward his campaign of research. To a considerable depth, it has been found that a good grade of the product exists. The islands are all said to be underlaid with vast deposits of phosphate that is said to bear favorable comparison with the product brought to Honolulu from Makatea and Ocean Islands.

Waters Teem With Fish.

"I never saw such a place for fish in my whole sea-faring career," declared Captain E. L. Tindall, master of the Kestrel, this morning as he recounted a pleasant 5-day passage from Fanning to Honolulu.

"The movements of the finny tribe in the waters of the harbor fairly keep one awake at night. They swarm about the vessel and will simply bite at anything that happens to be thrown over the side. Before the Kestrel sailed, several hundred pounds of magnificent fish were placed in the refrigerating chambers. Later it was found that a breakdown in the machinery caused the shipment to spoil and they were consigned to the deep."

According to Captain Tindall, specimens found in the lagoons at Washington and Fanning present the most beautiful colorings to be found in the world. He claims to have never seen the equal for striking shades and tints at any aquarist yet visited.

The Kestrel is now berthed at pier 15 where 90 tons of copra are discharged preparatory to its transshipment to the coast. About 50 cases of shells, suitable for the manufacture of handles or buttons, were brought to this city.

Manager R. M. Pitt, representing the Armstrongs in the south seas, will remain at Fanning for some months to watch the development of the harbor site, the phosphate deposits and the cultivation of copra.

The health of the colony of officers and employees with the British cable company is reported as excellent. A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Plunkett of the cable staff on May 5, the event being duly celebrated by a magnificent lulu.

Southern Sweep South Pacific.

Squalls, accompanied by much wind and rain, are said to have swept the portion of the Pacific in which Fanning and Washington islands reside, during the visit of the Kestrel. While no damage was done the vessel or the plantations on shore, the weather made it extremely unpleasant for the speedy discharge of cargo and the loading of island products.

The Kestrel was detained at quarantine last night for fumigation. Chief Officer Pinkston, who has completed his initial round trip to Fanning, is alleged to have figured in an interesting romance during the heart throbs faster.

NATIONAL GUARD TURN-OUT WILL BE CONSIDERED

The turn-out of the National Guard of Hawaii tomorrow for the Memorial Day parade will have considerable bearing on the future disposition of the Hawaiian militia, for besides joining with the regulars and the several patriotic societies in doing honor to the nation's dead, the citizen-soldiers will be under close observation of army authorities, for general appearance, discipline, marching ability and strength. This will be the first regimental formation of the 1st Infantry, N. G. H., since the Mexican trouble reached the boiling point, and as plans for the mobilization of the guard for local defense in the event of war are now well developed, department and brigade authorities are keenly interested in the turn-out tomorrow. The guardsmen will be under keen observation from the time the column forms until they return to their armory, and much depends on their showing tomorrow.

Lieut. Col. W. R. Riley, commanding the 1st Infantry, will command the militia troops tomorrow. The nine companies stationed on Oahu will form two battalions, the 2d battalion, Major Rose, being on the right, with companies G, K, H, E and F in the order named. This makes Company H, the Chinese-American organization, the color company. The 1st battalion, Major Johnson, will have companies C, A, D and B in column. The Hawaiian band will play the regiment through the streets.

Arriving at the Nuuanu cemetery, the National Guard will change formation from column of platoons to column of squads, march through the cemetery grounds taking the first turn makai, forming again in line of masses, and stacking arms. The men will fall out to attend the ceremonies, and at the conclusion of the exercises the command will be marched back to its station.

The regular troops, consisting of the 2d Infantry, commanded by Col. French, and the provisional battalion Coast Artillery, Major Coe, will pass the main gate of the cemetery, turning into the high ground makai and there stacking arms.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 16.—The Postmaster-general and Mrs. Burleson have been away for several days with a view to the selection of quarters for the coming summer. They have visited homes at Watch Hill, R. I., and other resorts.

Lieut. John Strong Abbott, U. S. N., executive and navigating officer of the Dixie, now off Tampico, who came into prominence recently by the newspaper accounts of his action in selling Lobos Island, is soon to take as his bride, if the dove of peace alights, Miss Ernestine Van Wyck Rhein, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Rhein of No. 38 East 61st street, New York, and a granddaughter of the late Mrs. Frances M. Odell of Great Neck, L. I. June 8 was selected as the date for the wedding, which is to take place in New York, but the ordering of the Atlantic fleet to Mexican waters has made it uncertain that the arrangements can be carried out at that time.

Lieut. Abbott is the son of the late Lieut. John Strong Abbott, U. S. N. His mother lives in New York. Miss Rhein, who is descended from the old Long Island family of Van Wycks, was graduated from Wellesley college in 1910.

Miss Martha Bowers, whose engagement to Mr. Robert Taft was announced recently, is in Cincinnati, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Taft, uncle and aunt of her fiancé. Yesterday she dined with Mrs. Charles Anderson, and today Miss Catherine Eckstein and Miss Evelyn Hollister are giving parties for her. Tomorrow Miss Catherine Anderson is asking a few people to meet her at luncheon and the evening is the opening of the May festival, when she will grace the Taft box. Thursday Miss Anna Smith will give a little luncheon for her before the festive parting, and on Friday she is returning to Washington with ex-President Taft.

The marriage of Miss Marjory Bruce Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clarence Stuart of 450 Riverside drive, New York, and Mr. Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., son of Associate Justice Charles E. Hughes of the United States supreme court, will take place June 17 in the chapel of the cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York. Miss Stuart will be graduated from Vassar in June. Mr. Hughes, who was graduated from Brown University in 1909 and later from the Harvard law school, has a law office in New York.

At Englewood, N. J., yesterday the engagement was announced of Miss Florence Lee Loveland, daughter of Maj. John Whitrop Loveland and Mrs. Loveland of that city, and Ivor Bache Clark of Staten Island, N. Y. Miss Loveland is a granddaughter of the late Justice William Strong of the United States supreme court and of ex-Gov. Hoyt of Pennsylvania. Mr. Clark is a descendant of Commodore William L. Hudson, who laid the first cable across the Atlantic.

The retiring counselor of the French embassy at Washington, D. C., Mr. De Peretti de la Rocca, has asked for France to take up the duties of his new position with the foreign office. Mme. de la Rocca and her children will join him inside of a month. The counselor and Mme. de la Rocca have just returned from a trip around the world.

REX HITCHCOCK CARTER'S CHOICE FOR SECRETARYSHIP, SAYS RUMOR

Chamber of Commerce President May Endorse Name of Local Harvard Graduate

That Rex Hitchcock of Honolulu, the famous halfback and allstar athlete of Harvard university, who soon is to arrive home after having completed his course at the eastern institution, is favored by President George R. Carter for the secretaryship of the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu, is the gist of a rumor which is rife on the street today. A number of prominent business men, who are closely in touch with the workings of the new commercial organization, gave out the information this morning that Mr. Carter had stated that he believed Mr. Hitchcock to be thoroughly qualified for the position, and that he was seriously considering recommending him.

The appointment of a secretary was one of the matters of business scheduled to come before the initial meeting of the new board of directors yesterday afternoon, but was deferred pending further consideration by the directors. In Mr. Carter's address to the directors, he laid special stress on the necessity of the board securing for secretary a man who would be a live wire and thoroughly acquainted with local conditions, concluding with the statement that upon the secretary will, to a great extent, depend the success of the organization.

It was made known yesterday afternoon that H. Gooding Field, the statistical expert, is a candidate for the secretaryship, which position will bring the holder $2500 a month, according to a statement made this morning by a member of the chamber. The other candidates are A. L. Mackay and H. C. Brown. It is understood that Brown will be given the position of secretary to James D. Dougherty, director-general of the Mid-Pacific Carnival, in case he is not chosen secretary of the new chamber.

PENSIONING PLANS OF BANKS

Plans for aiding at least in taking care of the old age of employees who have been long in service have of late engaged an increasing share of attention on the part of employers. An interesting instance of this kind is brought to public attention this week by the announcement of the adoption of a pension plan by the National Bank of Commerce of New York city. That institution is distributing to its officers and clerical employees certificates which give evidence of their being beneficiaries under a scheme of pension, life insurance and disability insurance adopted by the bank after a careful study and analysis of different forms of pension and life insurance plans adopted by financial institutions, railroads, manufacturers and other employers both in the United States and Europe. The plan, it may be said, contemplates no contribution whatever on the part of officers or clerks, the entire expense being borne by the bank. Under the plan all officers and clerical employees may retire from service with the consent of the board of directors upon attaining the age of 60 years, and to retire upon attaining the age of 55 years unless formally requested by the board to remain longer in the service. Upon such retirement they become eligible to an annual pension at the rate of 2 per cent of the aggregate salary received while in the continuous service of the bank. The maximum amount to be paid annually will, however, in no case exceed $5000. In addition, life insurance is provided for all officers and clerical employees in the service of the bank at the time of the adoption of the plan without physical examination, and for all thereafter employed who may be found physically eligible for such insurance. In each case the insurance will amount to one year's salary at the time of the death of the insured, the sum not to exceed $5000 in the case of any one person. Furthermore, the plan provides disability insurance for all present and future officers and clerical employees who may be found physically eligible, the amount payable monthly being 80 per cent of the annual salary during the first year of total disability and 60 per cent thereafter so long as the total disability shall continue.—Breadstreet.

A long series of experiments in the Philippines by army surgeons has disproved the theory that the deterioration of white persons in the tropics is due to the action rays of the sun.

It is contended by a French ecologist of standing that many unexpected fires at sea and explosions on warships and in mines are caused by stray wireless waves.
